in the City University of New York

POLICIES AND GUIDELINES FOR REAPPOINTMENT, TENURE AND PROMOTION

The guidelines for reappointment, tenure and promotion are set by the “Statement of the Board of Higher Education¹ on Academic Personnel Practice in the City University of New York” (adopted September 22, 1975), which is appended to this document. Note that the tenure clock was five years when this policy was adopted; as part of the 2002-2007 PSC-CUNY contract settlement, the untenured period for professorial titles increased to seven years.

¹ The Board of Higher Education was the predecessor to the Board of Trustees of the City University of New York.

CITY COLLEGE PROCESS FOR REAPPOINTMENT, PROMOTION, TENURE & CCE

Consideration for tenure or Certificate of Continuous Employment (“CCE”) is provided for in the Bylaws of the CUNY Board of Trustees. For these actions and for reappointments, there are no department screenings.

The recommendation of early tenure is a special action and involves additional steps, including a first and second screening at the department level and subsequent review by the University, if recommended by the President. Consideration for promotion after tenure (for example from tenured Associate Professor to Full Professor) also requires a first and second screening. An abbreviated vitae (CCNY CV Parts 1-12) may be used for first screenings. However, a signed, completed vitae (minus the Chair’s Report) shall be available at the time of the second screening.

All promotion, tenure and CCE actions require a signed completed vitae at the time of final review, and no additional materials may be submitted afterward for consideration by subsequent reviewing bodies, including letters of evaluation received after the vote has been taken. Should new information be deemed important or useful, all material may be returned to the initial reviewing bodies for reconsideration.

Candidates² may submit up to six (6) referees. In addition, a Department list developed by an Advisory Panel may propose at least six (6) referees. All referees, those proposed by the candidate as well as those proposed by the Advisory Panel, shall be solicited in writing for an evaluation (see Sample Letter of Solicitation for Tenure and Promotion included herein on p.10). Vitae should not be considered until a minimum of six (6) solicited evaluations (at least three from the candidate’s list and three from the Advisory Panel’s [Department’s] list) have been received. Therefore, a reasonable amount of time (three to four weeks) should be allotted between the date of request and the scheduling of the second screening.

For all personnel actions, the Chair's Report, the Evaluators (identified as either "Candidate's List" or "Department's List," or both), and the Student Evaluations must appear on separate pages in the CV. Persons serving on the Candidate's Advisory Panel must be identified on the page listing his/her referees.

Positive recommendations (and appeals) forwarded to the divisional P&B and Review Committee for consideration must be accompanied by the information and materials described herein. Curricula vitae that are forwarded to the divisional P&B and Review Committee, as well as positive recommendations (and appeals) that are not in compliance with the requirements stated herein, shall be returned to the Academic Dean or Department Chairperson and will not be presented to the Review Committee for action.

Should you have any questions concerning the matters covered herein, please call the Office of the Provost at extension 6590, or the Office of the Executive Counsel to the President at extension 8276.

GUIDELINES FOR PREPARING THE CCNY CURRICULUM VITAE (TO BE USED FOR PROMOTION, TENURE, AND CCE)

7. A summary of the information in sections I.A.2-6 for the previous seven (7) years or, for candidates with tenure, since the last promotion. This section should be arranged in the same order as in the curriculum vitae.

II. CHAIR'S REPORT

- A. The Chair's Report should thoroughly address all aspects of the qualifications of the candidate. The Chairperson should comment on such things as:
1. ability to contribute to the department's curricular offerings;
 2. teaching effectiveness;
 3. student evaluations;
 4. value of service to the Department and/or College as a whole;
 5. value of service to the discipline;
 6. status of journals in which publications appear;

7. background and qualifications of evaluators;
8. candidate's impact on the discipline;

10. any other issues which the Chairperson believes will illuminate the candidate for the various personnel bodies.

B. The Chair's Report must be dated and signed.

C. The Chair's Report should be written after the Executive Committee's/Promotion Committee's vote and before presentation to the P&B Committee.

III. WAIVER AND EQUIVALENCY

A. If the Board Bylaws degree requirements were not met at the time of the initial appointment, the waiver or equivalency status of all candidates must be stated.

B. If a waiver or equivalency was needed, include a copy of the letter from the Central Office approving the College's request.

IV. STUDENT EVALUATIONS

A. All available evaluation scores for the candidate should be included for both promotion and tenure candidates. If such scores are not available, an explanation should be provided.⁴

B. In the Chair's Report, the Chairperson may comment on the relationship of the candidate's scores to the overall departmental average on common courses in assessing the candidate's teaching effectiveness.

⁴ The College did not administer Course and Teacher Evaluations in Spring 2020 in consequence of effects of the COVID-19 pandemic. Faculty may but are not required to include student evaluations administered by themselves or by academic units.

V. LETTERS OF EVALUATION

A. Identification of Referees and Creation of Advisory Panels

1. For each candidate, the Chairperson shall request that he/she submit the following:
 - (a) a list of up to six (6) names of proposed referees;
 - (b) a list of names of persons the candidate prefers not be asked to act as referees (this list shall be included in the Chairperson's Report); and
 - (c) the names of up to three (3) faculty members of higher rank as candidates for his or her Advisory Panel. At the candidate's request, the divisional or school dean, in consultation with the candidate (and with the Faculty Ombudsman, should the candidate so request), shall select faculty from outside his/her department as candidates for the Advisory Panel.

Neither the names of the referees proposed by the candidate nor the names he/she requested not be asked to serve as referees shall be made known to the Advisory Panel members.

2. The Executive Committee of the department shall appoint an Advisory Panel for each candidate. The Panel shall consist of three (3) faculty members, at least one of whom is chosen from the candidate's list (see Section V.A.1.(c) above). Each Advisory Panel shall prepare a list of up to six (6) names of proposed referees. This list should normally not include individuals with a prolonged history of close involvement with the candidate, e.g., thesis or post-doctoral mentors, research collaborators, co-authors, etc. The names of the referees proposed by Advisory Panel shall not be made known to the candidate.
3. The Chairperson shall solicit letters of evaluation from the total lists provided by the candidate and the Advisory Panel. If the Chairperson, in consultation with the Panel, determines that the list will not provide an adequate evaluation, additional names may be added by the Advisory Panel. The Chairperson may make such a request if he/she notes considerable overlap between the two lists or if there are not at least four (4) names appearing only on the Panel's list. There should be at least two (2) different referees on each list to generate a minimum of nine (9) possible referees, some of whom may not respond.
4. When all the obtainable responses from the referees have been received, the Chairperson shall make them available to the Advisory Panel, and will consult with them as to whether or not an adequate evaluation has been obtained. Should it be determined that an adequate evaluation has not been obtained, additional letters may be solicited in accordance with Section V.A.3 above. There must be a minimum of six (6) respondents, at least three (3) of whom appear only on the Panel's list.

B. Letters of Solicitation (See sample letters included herein, at pages 10-12.)

1. The letter of solicitation is to request an evaluation, not a letter of reference or recommendation.
2. Certain minimum materials should be included with the solicitation letter, including the candidate's curriculum vitae and, where appropriate, copies of his/her work.
3. The letter of solicitation should state clearly the action or actions for which the candidate is being reviewed - i.e., tenure and promotion, early tenure, or promotion. For recommendations regarding tenure, the letter should request an evaluation of the potential for continued growth and performance, as well as for an appraisal of the quality of the candidate's work to date.

For recommendations regarding early tenure, the letter should request an evaluation of the candidate's scholarship or standing in his/her field on a national or international level, or his/her performance at a previous institution at which tenure was awarded, as well as comments regarding the potential for future contributions in his/her field of study.

For recommendations regarding promotion, the letter should ask if the candidate is now, or shortly will be, performing at the teaching, research, scholarship, or administrative level appropriate to the rank for which he/she is being considered.

4. Letters of solicitation should avoid statements that might prejudice the evaluator, either for or against the candidate. Letters should be standard for all candidates, with allowances for the specific information sought from the evaluator.
5. As letters of solicitation are received, each should be labeled "Candidate's List," "Advisory Panel's List," or both.

C. General

1. Evaluators should be external to the College, except in cases such as where the candidate's college-wide service has been of an extraordinary nature, and other situations as appropriate. In such cases, letters of solicitation should be particularly specific. In those personnel considerations in which the record of the candidate includes teaching, service, or administrative responsibility outside the home department, letters should be solicited to provide an appraisal of this performance from the extra-departmental discipline or unit.
2. Only those letters of evaluation formally solicited under the guidelines described herein shall be included in the curriculum vitae. Unsolicited letters and other appropriate materials may be placed before the Review Committee (as is currently done with books or other publications) by the presenting Dean. No material shall be presented as part of a candidate's personal file that he/she has not seen.

3. Letters of evaluation more than two (2) years old (whether updated or not) may not be included in the CV. The age of letters of evaluation is determined by the number of promotional cycles that have elapsed since the receipt of the letters.
4. Copies of all responses to solicitations must be included in the Vitae. Each shall be clearly marked or referenced as to its list of origin, i.e., "Candidate," or "Department" (Panel).
5. In cases of evaluators who are not faculty members at a college or university and who are likely not to be known to faculty in general, a short (one or two page) resume of the evaluator should accompany the letter of evaluation.
6. Annual Evaluation Reports (or appropriate similar forms) should be appended to the curriculum vitae of non-teaching instructional staff, including those in the Librarian and College Laboratory Technician (CLT) titles.

VI. PROCESS

- A. The candidate should assist in the preparation of the CV by providing to the Department Chairperson all necessary information relevant to the his/her activities (e.g., publications, reviews, scholarly activity, etc.).
- B. The Chairperson shall be responsible for preparing the CV.
- C. The candidate shall review the CV prior to its being sent to referees, which precedes the second screening in the case of recommendations for early tenure or promotion. However, where an official CV is used for the first screening, the candidate shall review it first. The candidate's review does not include the confidential materials (e.g., Chair's Report, names of referees solicited), which are also withheld from the referees.
- D. It is the candidate's responsibility to insure that all data and non-confidential information in the CV are correct, up-to-date, and present a fair picture of his/her background and qualifications. Therefore, the candidate will indicate, in Part II of the cover sheet, that the CV has his/her approval or will provide corrections and additions. Then the candidate will sign and date Part II.
- E. Part III of the cover sheet is confidential; it is not to be shown to the candidate. It will be completed by the Chairperson and/or Dean after the candidate has signed Part II. The entries of Part III will list all departmental actions.

Dear _____:

(Assistant-, Associate-, Professor) John/Jane Doe is being considered for early tenure at The City College of The City University of New York.

Within The City University of New York, as at most institutions, the award of tenure involves a number of considerations, including scholarly achievements and activities, teaching performance, and service to the college, community, and profession. In The City University, early tenure may be awarded to a faculty member who, although they have not yet fulfilled the seven years of continuous full-time service ordinarily required by State law and the Bylaws of the University, is deemed to be of exceptional value to the College. It is not simply fulfilling the standard expectations for tenure in fewer years. If early tenure is denied, the candidate has the opportunity to come up for tenure again on the normal timeline. We ask that you evaluate (Assistant-, Associate-, Professor) John/Jane Doe with these considerations in mind.

I welcome your comments concerning Professor Doe's scholarship and published works, particularly in the area of____, as well as any comments you have concerning his/her/their potential for future contributions in his/her field of study. Thank you for your assistance.

Sincerely yours,

Chairperson

PROCEDURES FOR TENURE, CCE, and EARLY TENURE*

I. DEPARTMENT LEVEL

A. Departmental First Screening (For Candidates for Early Tenure Only):

1. Materials. The materials listed below are required for each candidate for early tenure as a basis for first screening:

- (a) An up-to-date curriculum vitae. For the first screening, the CV is assembled according to the Guidelines, but without letters of reference or Chair's Report. A department may adopt the use of an abbreviated CV, provided that it is used uniformly for all candidates in the first screening. Particular attention is drawn to the need for inclusion of student evaluation materials. The Chairperson and the candidate share responsibility for updating the CV;
- (b) Evaluations required by contract: this is the Chairperson's and/or members of the Tenure Committee's responsibility;
- (c) Copies of candidate's publications and other pertinent information for the CV: candidate's responsibility.

2. Procedures to be followed by Department's Tenure Committee in first screening (for early tenure considerations):

As a result of the first screening, the department will determine, by secret ballot, whether the candidate(s) shall be further considered for early tenure or not. If more than one candidate is being proposed, two lists shall be generated: those "for further consideration" and those "not for further consideration".

3. The Minutes of the First Screening will include:

- (a) list of all candidates considered;
- (b) The results of the secret balloting for each candidate;
- (c) statement by the Chairperson that the materials in Section I.A.1 were available for each candidate.

B. Departmental Second Screening of Candidates for Early Tenure and Only Screening for Candidates for Contractual Tenure and CCE

* Faculty members wishing to apply for early tenure should consult with their department chair and dean; the dean consults with the Provost. A faculty member whose application for early tenure is denied, either by the College or by the University, may still be reappointed without tenure, as that is a separate determination.

1. Materials.

The following materials are required for candidates successfully emerging from the first screening for early tenure, for those candidates who appealed a negative decision at the first screening, and, initially, for candidates for tenure and CCE:

- (a) The materials in Section I.A.1, including a completed CV, excluding the Chair's Report;
- (b) At least six (6) letters of evaluation [note: letters of evaluation are not required for CCE candidates]; and
- (c) Candidate's personnel file.

2. Procedures.

In general, the procedures for the second screening for early tenure consideration are the same as for the first screening. The additional material will, of course, be considered. However, no additional materials may be added after the second screening, unless the entire package is returned to the Tenure Committee for its reconsideration except in the case of an appeal to the Review Committee or the President.

As with all personnel actions, the discussion of candidates that takes place in reviewing bodies, as well as the vote itself, is confidential and shall not be shared with the candidate or others outside the committee.

Two lists, developed from the secret balloting, shall be headed:
"Candidates recommended to the P&B," and
"Candidates not recommended to the P&B."

3. The minutes of the second screening for transmission to the P&B Committee shall consist of the following:

- (a) A list of all the candidates considered;
- (b) The results of the secret balloting on each candidate, appearing as two lists as indicated above; and
- (c) A listing of the distribution of ranks and of tenure within the department prior to the action on the candidates considered.

4. The Chair's Report:

The Chair's Report is confidential with respect to the candidate. It is written following the meeting of the Tenure Committee at which the candidates have been recommended.

A Chair's Report must also be prepared for candidates not recommended who appeal to the next higher level. The Chair's Report is added to the Curriculum Vitae.

The Report should contain the Chairperson's evaluation of the candidate and any relevant information arising from the Chairperson's perspective. This can include his/her estimation of the factors that were considered and their relative weight in the Committee's decision. PROCEDURES FOR PROMOTION*

A. Departmental First Screening for Promotion

1. Materials. The materials listed below are required for each candidate for promotion as a basis for first screening, unless the candidate, after inquiry by the Department Chairperson, declines consideration for promotion. Since all individuals serving as assistant and/or associate professors are theoretically eligible for promotion to the next higher title, their candidacy should be determined beforehand.

- (a) An up-to-date curriculum vitae. For the first screening, the CV is assembled according to the Guidelines, but without letters of reference or the Chair's Report. A department may adopt the use of an abbreviated CV, provided that it is used uniformly for all candidates in the first screening. Particular attention is drawn to the need for inclusion of student evaluation materials. The Chairperson and the candidate share responsibility for updating the CV
- (b) Evaluations required by contract: Chairperson's responsibility.
- (c) Copies of candidate's publications and other pertinent information for CV: candidate's responsibility.
- (d) Candidate's personnel file.

2. Procedures to be followed by Departmental Committee in first screening.

As a result of the first screening, the department will determine by secret ballot two lists of candidates - those to be further considered and those not to be further considered.

3. The Minutes of the First Screening will include:

- (a) list of all candidates considered;

*In a department where the number of persons eligible to serve on a Promotions Committee consists of fewer than three (3) members, the President will, after consultation with the Divisional Dean and the Department Chair, appoint sufficient faculty from outside the Department to form a Promotions Committee of three (3) members. Members of Promotions Committees who have submitted a resignation or who are on retirement leave are not eligible to vote, nor are they counted in determining a majority. Persons serving in Executive Compensation Plan titles may not participate in promotional reviewing bodies, except for those on the College-wide P&B Committee of the Review Committee.

- (b) The results of the secret balloting for each candidate; and
- (c) statement by the Chairperson that the materials in Section I.A.1 were available for each candidate.

B. Departmental Second Screening for Promotion

1. Materials: The following materials are required for candidates successfully emerging from the first screening for promotion:

- (a) The materials in Section I.A.1, including a completed CV; and
- (b) At least six (6) letters of evaluation.

2. Procedures:

In general, the procedures are the same as for the first screening. The additional material, of course, will be considered. However, no additional materials may be added after the second screening, unless the entire package is returned to the Promotions Committee for its reconsideration. The lists developed by secret ballot should be headed:

- "Candidates recommended to the P&B;" and
- "Candidates not recommended to the P&B."

3. The minutes of the second screening for transmission to the P&B Committee shall consist of the following:

- (a) list of all the candidates considered; and
- (b) The results of the secret balloting on each candidate, appearing as two lists as indicated above.

4. The Chair's Report:

The Chair's Report is confidential with respect to the candidate. It is written at the conclusion of the second screening for candidates recommended to the P&B. A Chair's Report must also be prepared for candidates not recommended at the second screening but appealing to the next higher level. The Chair's Report is added to the Curriculum Vitae.

The Report should contain the Chairperson's evaluation of the candidate and any relevant information arising from the Chairperson's perspective. This can include his/her estimation of the factors that were considered and their relative weight in the Committee's decision. The Report should be an objective evaluation commenting on teaching effectiveness and classroom work; fit of candidate into department; institutional needs, etc.

In addition to reflecting the nature of the elements leading to the departmental action, it should contain the Chairperson's particular perspective, pointing out the candidate's strong points as well as weaknesses, if any. The Chair's Report must be signed and dated.

The department should forward to the appropriate P&B the minutes of the final departmental screening insofar as they relate to successful candidates (and of those who appeal). The complete materials (completed CV with Chair's Report, etc.) for all candidates should also be forwarded to the P&B. A summary statement of the number of candidates considered and the voting results should be included.
