

DEPARTMENT OF PSYCHOLOGY

9th Annual Research and Scholarship Day
Clinical Psychology PhD Program

November 28, 2023

Shepard Hall Room 107

8-8:30am Coffee and pastries
8:30-8:45am Welcome (Eric Fertuck)
8:45-10:15am Student Panel 1 (Discussant: Steve Tuber)

Stephanie M. Nuñez

Gendered Racism: An Intersectional Approach To Understanding The Individual and Cultural Risk Factors For Problematic Alcohol Use Among Women

Talia Schulder

The Reverberations of COVID-19: Accounting for Psychological, Social, and Political Factors

Shannique Richards

The moderating roles of racial and COVID-19 stress on the association between college students' cannabis use and psychosocial functioning

10:15-10:30am Coffee Break

10:30am-12pm

Keynote Lecture: Trauma-focused psychodynamic psychotherapy in LGBTQ populations

Jack Keefe

Research Fellow, Albert Einstein College of Medicine, Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences

(Incoming) Assistant Professor, Long Island University-Brooklyn, Department of Psychology

12-1:30pm Internship Lunch

1:30-2:30pm Research and Scholarship Project Poster Session

2:30-3:45 Student Panel 2 (Discussant: Paul Wachtel)

Devika Duggal

Social Exclusion in Borderline Personality Disorder: Behavioral, Affective and Neural Consequences

Rona Tarazi

The Shadow of Grief: Complicated Grief, Stigma, and Psychological Distress among Ethnoracial Minoritized Young Adults